More River Along Happy Farm River Trail

Story and pictures by Kit Pfeiffer

Just in time for summer hiking and swimming, the Whitefield Trails Committee has opened a new section of river frontage connecting the two stretches of the original Happy Farm River Trail. You can now walk along the river for close to a mile, enjoying the vistas and, if you're lucky, spotting a mink or a beaver, a Bald Eagle or a Great Blue Heron.

Looking down the Sheepscot River from the original trail

In case you haven't walked it yet, Happy Farm River Trail starts at the Recycling Center behind the Town Office on Townhouse Road, crosses several hay fields, and then cuts down through mixed woods to the Sheepscot River. This part of the river contains spawning and nursery habitat for Atlantic Salmon as designated by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. The woods are home to small mammals, deer and an abundance of songbirds, as well as mosses, lichens, ferns and some very large White Pine and Eastern Hemlock near the river. The Happy Farm River Trail has some gentle ups and downs and is well suited to families. There are two wooden benches for resting to overlook the river, as well as a cleared picnic area. No fires are allowed. Dogs under owner's command are welcomed. Please respect landowner wishes and stay on the trail marked by the blue blazes.

Trail maps and directions for all three Whitefield Trails can be downloaded on the Midcoast Conservancy website: midcoastconservancy.org/preserve/ sheepscot-valley/. With the cooperation of generous private landowners and assistance of the Midcoast Conservancy, the all-volunteer

Junkyards: Taking them on

by Sue McKeen

When I was growing up in the 50's, I remember my father. I particularly remember my father on Saturdays. He got up early. He was joyful. He was going to the dump. In those days, we threw away couches, refrigerators, stoves, tires, car parts, electronics...you name it. There was nothing you couldn't bring to the dump. It was a virtual cornucopia of cast-offs, and we threw our previous "treasures" with wild abandon. My father was there front and center, making small talk with Jimmy, the dump man, waiting for the first load of treasures to arrive. He was a real estate man during the week, but on weekends, he was heart and soul, a picker.

I recently sat down with Whitefield's Code Enforcement Officer, Arthur Strout, at his office in Windsor. We discussed the accelerating problem of uncontrolled junkyards. I asked him if he thought the problem had gotten worse. Without hesitation, he said, "Absolutely, much worse". He never even scratched his head when he replied, "It's because people can't just go to the dump anymore. They don't want to pay someone to haul their trash away. Inevitably, it gets thrown in their yards, fields, any place accessible." We both agreed, people have more "stuff". We are, after all, a society of consumers - we consume everything, then we throw it away. Some recycle, many don't. Some pay to have their trash/junk hauled away, while others don't, can't, or won't.

I asked Arthur how he handles complaints. He told me when he gets a call, he goes out to the property to see if it does meet the state definition of a junkyard. If it does, he informs the property owner that they must go to the town to apply for a permit. If they don't want to do that, they are told to clean up the property within a certain time frame. If the property owner does not comply, they may be subject to fines and legal action.

The Board of Selectmen has been tasked with enforcing the existing state law. Whitefield does not have its own junkyard/ automobile graveyard ordinance. In the past couple of months, there have been increased rumblings from the public about the state of our town, the proliferation of junk along roads, in yards and fields. The Board has agreed, as a starting Continued on Pg. 2

Junk from Pg. 1 point, to take legal action if necessary in pursuing the several complaints currently on CEO Strout's desk.

In order to further understand the problem, it is important to know the statutory definitions of an "automobile graveyard", "automobile recycling business" and "junkyard". The purpose of such definitions are to identify and provide adequate controls to ensure that junkyards, automobile graveyards, and automobile recycling businesses do not have a harmful impact on the public health, safety and general welfare or on the natural environment.

- Automobile Graveyard: A yard, field, or other outdoor area used to store 3 or more unregistered or undisputed motor vehicles or parts of the vehicles. Automobile graveyard includes an area used for automobile dismantling, salvage, and recycling operations. Section 29-A, section 101, subsection 42.
- Automobile Recycling Business: The business premises of a dealer or a recycler licensed under Title 29-A, sections 851-1112, who purchases or acquires salvage vehicles for the purpose of reselling the vehicles or component parts of the vehicles or rebuilding or repairing salvage vehicles for the purpose of resale or for selling the basic materials in the salvage vehicles, as long as 80% of the business premises specified in the site plan in section 3755-A, subsection 1, paragraph C is used for automobile recycling operations.
- Junkyard: A yard, field, or other outside area used to store, dismantle or otherwise handle: (a) discarded, worn out or junked plumbing, heating supplies, electronic or industrial equipment, household appliances or furniture; (b) discarded, scrap and junked lumber; and (c) old or scrap copper, brass, rope, rags, batteries, paper trash, rubber debris, waste and all scrap iron, steel and other scrap ferrous or nonferrous material.

In the Town of Whitefield, we have two businesses which are licensed under one or more of these categories. This may be a startling revelation, considering what we can view during a Sunday drive around town.

To the point, if you fall in any of the categories named above, you may require a permit. You don't have to be in the business of selling in order to require a permit. You may also be required to meet certain standards as conditioned by your permit.

Junkyards: Are they subjective or objective? You may think they are subjective, but the reality lies in the law. Laws govern our nation. Laws are enforceable through the courts. Laws were established, in the main, to enable us to live together and for the benefit of the whole. Not just for a few. Now ask yourselves, do my habits impact my neighbor?

Personally, I miss the days of the open dump. I know for sure my father couldn't countenance a world without Saturdays at the dump. However, today I go to the Recycling Center where I can rifle through unwanted items, talk to my neighbors, and cut down on the amount of trash I have to pay to have hauled away. There is always a bright side.

Half-Off Maine fruits and vegetables program at Sheepscot General

by Taryn Marcus

Sheepscot General Store and Farm is working with Maine Farmland Trust this summer and Fall to help low-income shoppers stretch their food budgets through the Maine Harvest Bucks program. This is an incentive program that provides monetary bonuses to low-income shoppers to buy additional local fruits and vegetables. Customers with EBT/SNAP cards will receive half-off local fruits and vegetables. Fruit and vegetable seeds and seedlings also qualify. This program supports our local farmers, increases access to healthy food for lowincome shoppers, and builds community connections. A brief one time survey needs to be filled out before discounts can be applied. Sheepscot General will run this program through December, and hopefully, if successful, again next year.

Summer Library

Where: Arlington Grange When: Beginning July 12, Wednesdays and Saturdays, 10:00 - 12:00

The Whitefield School has donated books on loan for the summer, but we need many more. We'd love donations of gently used, appropriate children's and adult books; 2 easy chairs, bean bag chairs, scatter rugs, small round table, craft items, lamps, shelving. FMI please call Martha Tait, 549-5123, Margaret Ferguson 549-5991 or Sue McKeen 446-7473.

The Sheepscot Valley Regional School Unit 12 budget heads to voters

Tuesday, June 13th, the citizens of Whitefield, along with the other RSU 12 towns, are asked to vote on the 2017-2018 budget referendum. This year's budget is posted on the district website for review (www.svrsu.org). There is specific information about Whitefield School's budget proposals on that website. Whitefield's local contribution in the 2017-2018 budget proposal is $2,269,629, an increase of $107,331.70 or 4.96 percent. The budget was finalized and recommended to the citizens of RSU 12 by the RSU 12 Board of Directors, and on May 18 voters approved the $21.46 million budget at the annual budget validation meeting. The final step in the budget process is for voters in each town to validate through the referendum process the whole budget that was approved at the May 18 meeting. Please contact the Town Office to learn more about the time and location of voting on this referendum on June 13th.

Our appreciation goes out to the students in Whitefield School's National Junior Honor Society for placing 220 flags at the Whitefield Cemetery in Kings Mills. This was one of many civic responsibilities Ms McCormick's group enthusiastically took on this year, and we will highlight more in our next edition.

Graduates

☆ We are very proud and excited to announce that our ☆ granddaughter, Dayze Gaulin has graduated from Cor- $\bigstar$ nell University, Ithaca NY, with a Bachelor of Science  $\bigstar$ degree in Animal Sciences. Dayze specialized in Dairy  $\checkmark$ Science and is planning to apply to Veterinarian School ☆ this fall. Her goal is to practice veterinary medicine for farm animals (primarily cattle), in Maine and of course ☆ Whitefield! Part of how we're celebrating Dayze's  $\bigstar$ achievement is with a pair of Brown Swiss bull calves ☆ that we'll be training up together to work on the ☆ farm. Dayze has worked incredibly hard and she in-☆ spires us every day. ☆
